about

our service

NHS Cornwall and Isles of Scilly, in partnership with Outlook South West, has developed a service to support people who have been bereaved by suicide.

Bereavement by suicide can be particularly painful to cope with, and many people who experience this type of loss find it hard to access the practical help and support they need.

what do we provide?

The Suicide Liaison Service provides short term follow-up and support that may include:

- Face to face contact with a trained liaison worker
- Information, practical support and guidance about the investigation of the death and the sorting out of personal affairs
- Liaison with the Coroner's Office, the Police, the media and, when requested, faith groups
- Referral to other statutory and voluntary services that can help you, as required

is this service for?

This service is for anyone who has been affected by suicide. It is open to all without discrimination with regard to age, gender, race, disability, sexual orientation and beliefs.

ANYONE CAN RECEIVE HELP FROM THIS SERVICE BY RINGING

01208 871414

Referrals can also be made by GPs and other health professionals, statutory, community and voluntary services.
